Jenny celebrates 60 years in Ferguson Valley

A luncheon organised by Jenny Gardiner's family and Rob and Maureen Webster saw the community come together in the Ferguson Hall to celebrate 60 years that Jenny has lived in Ferguson Valley. Jenny came to live in Ferguson Valley when she married John Gardiner and very quickly became involved in community life whilst farming with John and having 3 children who today all live close. Speeches of adoration were delivered by some of the senior longtime members of our community including Sheila Butcher, Irene Bell, Alan Mountford, Peter Giumelli and Lesley Gibbs. Others chipped in applauding Jenny as a much loved community member who had cared for many in her 60 years of residence. Jennys family organised a slide show and delicious cake. Everyone agreed it was a wonderful day spent catching up with friends just as Jenny liked.

Changing of the Guard at the Dardanup Post Office

Our family moved into Crooked Brook close to 2 years ago after building our dream home. My husband Scotty spent some of his teen years growing up in Waterloo and loved every minute of it. We love the area and lifestyle it provides. We have a little hobby farm and a teenage boy.

When Terry put the sale sign up, we had to jump on it. Best way to meet the community and be a part of helping the locals. Even though it might take me sometime to fill Terry's shoes, so please bear with us.

I would like to thank Terry for the 11 years of outstanding service he has provided, I'm sure he will have some great stories to tell of the adventures to come.

Natalie MacLeod

Eds Note; huge welcome to Natalie and family and equally huge thankyou to Terry for being a fantastic Postmaster and friend to many for 11 years. The Dardanup Residents Assoc plans on hosting a thankyou sundowner for Terry and welcome to Natalie soon after Easter so keep an eye out through the grapevine

Dardanup Lions Club News

The club was out in force to give an 'end of ride' lunch to participants in the Black Dog Ride Sunday 16th March. Add to that glorious sunshine weather and a cast of 200 riders together wanting to get the message out – are you OK. You can be!

Our fellow life travellers need to stand ready to help each other through those blips in personal circumstance that sorely test us.

And there are specialist groups and associations that you can call on for help. There are a dozen crisis help outfits listed on the Black Dog Rides website – a call away.

If you are in a protracted hole of a situation there are eight different flavours of assistance you might ask for referral to, to help you out. Go to Black Dog Ride for links.

FERGUSON VALLEY MARKETING UPDATE

As the first quarter of 2025 slips by, Ferguson Valley Marketing Board are excitedly planning for the 2025 ‘Lost and Found’ Festival of Events, scheduled to be held 17th to 19 October. Management of the Festival this year has been undertaken by a voluntary committee of local, driven, and enthusiastic community members who are fully engaged to ensure the success and continuous improvement of the festival. Bringing more people to the area to ensure the ongoing success of businesses in our region is our goal. A diverse program of events is being developed bearing in mind different price points, family friendly, music, wining and dining plus outdoor activities & a FREE community event are all being considered. Save the dates in your diary.

Would you like a Ferguson Valley number plate? They are now available through Ferguson Valley Marketing for $355 per plate excl DOT costs. Visually they have been changed slightly – the latest version is on display at the Post Office in Dardanup and the Visitor Centre. Contact Ebony Harding – marketing@fergusonvalley.net.au – if you would like to place an order. We need a min of 30 plates to make our first order, so grab a number that thats special to you & get in contact with us. All proceeds go right back into the community.

The first of our FVM networking nights for 2025 was at Evedon Lakeside Retreat where we had approx 35 attendees. The hot topic was the Lost & Found Festival, however these nights also provide a platform to highlight the facilities and ambience of our members venues. It also provides an opportunity for discussion amongst business owners who have a common interest in the sustainability of tourism in the Valley.

Networking nights are just one of the benefits of FVM Membership. These include, amongst others, representation on the Ferguson Valley Website and the ‘FV map’ which is widely circulated for distribution at neighbouring Visitor Centres plus Visitor centres such as Perth city centre and Swan Valley, Hills Centre at Kalamunda, Fremantle, Mandurah, Busselton, Margaret River etc. the ‘FV map’ is included in a distribution circuit throughout one hundred venues in Margaret River and surrounds including Busselton Airport. The time to consider membership is right now as memberships run from 1 July to 30 June – there are several levels and choices. Contact Ebony Harding – marketing@fergusonvalley.net.au – for a prospectus and an explanation of the full raft of benefits.

Shire of Dardanup Highlights for April

Shire of Dardanup National Finalist for Sustainability Award

The Shire of Dardanup's Library, Administration and Community Building has been honoured as a national finalist in the 2025 Urban Development Institute of Australia (UDIA) Awards for Excellence. Representing WA in the Sustainability category, the building was recognised for its innovative, environmentally responsible design at the awards ceremony in Brisbane on 19 March 2025.

Shire President Tyrrell Gardiner said being named a finalist among Australia's most forward-thinking projects was a proud moment for the community.

The building previously won the State Sustainability title at the UDIA WA Awards in 2024 and two awards at the IPWEA Awards for Excellence.

Constructed as the fourth all-timber build by the Shire, the facility showcases the Council's commitment to sustainable construction and environmental stewardship.

Community Meetings thank you

A big thank you to everyone who attended our recent Community Meetings in Burekup, Ferguson Valley, Dardanup, and Eaton. Your time and valuable input are truly appreciated, and we encourage all residents to join us again next year.

We were especially thrilled to see such a fantastic turnout at the Dardanup meeting — it was the biggest of the year! Thank you to everyone who came along and engaged with us.

While these annual forums are a great opportunity to find out what's happening at the Shire and ask questions, remember that you don't have to wait for next year to reach out. We're here to listen and help all year round.

February Ordinary Council Meeting outcomes

The Shire of Dardanup considered several key matters at its Ordinary Council Meeting on Wednesday, 26 February 2025, including plans to explore replacement options for a local footbridge, updates to a draft policy on strategic water tanks, and responses to community-raised motions on urban canopy and landscaping.

Key decisions from the meeting included:

Council to explore options for footbridge replacement

The Shire of Dardanup Council resolved to explore alternative options for replacing the timber footbridge between Pratt Road Lookout and Watson Reserve.

Council has requested that Shire staff investigate potential replacement designs and costings and bring these options back for review.

Further updates will be provided once replacement options have been presented to Council.

Revised draft policy on strategic water tanks endorsed

Council endorsed a revised draft Local Planning Policy for the provision of strategic water tanks for firefighting purposes in non-reticulated areas.

The decision follows the identification of an administrative error in the previously endorsed 2024 version of the policy during the community consultation process.

As a result, Council resolved not to proceed with the 2024 version and instead endorsed an updated 2025 draft policy for public consultation.

The revised draft policy aims to ensure the community is properly informed and can provide feedback before a final version is considered.

Council responds to electors' motions on urban canopy and Ferguson Road landscaping

Council also endorsed actions in response to two motions raised by electors at January's Annual Electors' Meeting. Council resolved to include in the review of the Council Plan an action to develop a policy encouraging an Urban Canopy Strategy for the Shire. This will be considered as part of the 2025/2026 budget deliberations.

Additionally, Council directed the Chief Executive Officer to investigate the landscaping options outlined in the original 2018-19 road plans for Ferguson Road and to present these options for Council's consideration in the 2025/2026 budget.

Postal vote supported for 2025 Local Government election Council unanimously endorsed the appointment of the Western Australian Electoral Commissioner to conduct the 2025 Local Government Election on 18 October 2025.

Council also confirmed that the election will be conducted as a postal election, ensuring accessibility and convenience for voters.

Council's next Ordinary Meeting will be held on Wednesday, 26 March from 5pm at the Council Chambers. All welcome.

This edition focuses on our new STEM teacher, Ashlee Kujawski, and the programs running this term. Ashlee has a passion for science and engineering as well as enjoying the Ferguson Valley surrounds.

Year 6: Students are managing their own class pets—small ecosystems in water bottles filled with soil and mixed seeds.

Year 1: Students planted bean stalks, looking at how to care for plants and our environment.

Year 2/3 : Students are discovering animal habitats, making sure animals have what they need to survive.

Year 4: Students are designing 3D food chain models. Exploring food chains in our Nature Play area.

Year 4/5: These students are working on a camouflage project and have placed camouflaged butterflies they designed in different areas. Hope you can spot them around the STEM room! Butterfly shape in the French flag!!

Year 3: Students have created animal models using salt dough, which are currently drying in the STEM room. They have painted their backgrounds for their dioramas.

Dardanup Heritage Collective News The Dardanup Repertory Club

The Dardanup Heritage Collective is putting together the history of some of Dardanup's clubs. If you would like to contribute, please contact us through the web page.

Dardanup once had an active repertory group in the years roughly between 1951 – 1961. These dates likely coincide with the owners of the Saveway Store (in a building once next to the Hotel), Ron and Esme Blythe being in Dardanup. They feature in most productions over these years.

10 programmes of performances are available from this time and give a wonderful insight into entertainment of the time. The variety of community members involved also highlights the activity as one that was widely enjoyed by those performing in plays, the producers and those supporting each production. Not to mention the audiences who attended!

To read more and to download the programs, go to: <https://dardanupheritagecollective.org.au/> and using the Search function, type in Dardanup Repertory Club.

Discover your Family History

Unlock Your Family Secrets - Discovering your family history can be a fun and fascinating journey. Our Discover Your Family History workshops and discussions provide all the tools you need to unlock your family secrets in no time at all. Share Ideas & Exchange Knowledge. We believe in the power of knowledge-sharing. That's why we encourage our members to come together, discuss their successes and challenges in tracing their roots, and even share their genealogy research with each other.

Check out the upcoming workshops:

APRIL 17th, 2025, 5:30-7:00 pm, Eaton Community Library

What did your family DO? Occupations and how research & use them. It is all very well to know that someone was a railway worker or weaver, but how can that help us understand our family tree and find missing relatives. This session will give you some ideas of how to use the information you already have and where to find more.

April is the beginning of the Noongar season Djeran. Autumn is here, the morning air is cool and the Magpies song has changed.

Take advantage of the warm days to help along the growth of your newly planted Autumn and Winter crops.

April is a busy month for both planting and pruning / tidying up in the garden. Healthy soil means healthy crops. If you haven't done it already, get busy preparing your soil. Feed the soil microbes by adding compost or aged manure, some rock dust and/or vermicompost (from your worm farm). Remember that your Brassica crops are 'hungry' and will need enriched soil to give you a good harvest. During the colder months, extra applications of fertilisers and tonics take longer to be effective, so good soil preparation now will save you time and effort during winter.

If you haven't started planting your favourite longer season Brassicas (Broccoli, Brussel Sprouts, Cabbage, Cauliflower & Kale) now is the time! They take between 12-20 weeks before harvest so find some healthy seedlings and plant them 50cm apart. Fill in the spaces around each seedling with faster growing crops such as asian greens, beetroot, lettuce, radish, rocket and spring onions. This maximises the yield from your space and gives you something to eat while you wait for the brassicas to mature.

An interesting faster growing relative is Kohl Rabi, it develops a swollen stems/bulb above the ground, can be eaten raw in salads or cooked like a turnip, also the leaves are delicious. There are green and purple/red skinned varieties (both are white inside) and make great companion plantings with celery, lettuce, spring onions and beetroot. Plant them 15cm apart and you can start harvesting the 'bulb' from 10 weeks. Best grown in the cooler months, you can stagger sow the seeds for continued cropping until late spring. They are hungry crops but don't require very deep soil so even suitable to plant in pots!

Peas need a trellis for support, even the dwarf varieties. They have fine tendrils that like to 'grasp' hold of the trellis, so chickenwire or jute netting works well. Sugar snap and Snow pea varieties are great for producing less waste as you can eat the whole pod. Dwarf varieties grow 0.5m-1m tall and mature in less than 60 days. Tall varieties grow between 1.5-2m tall you start picking from 70-80 days. Best planted as seeds directly into the bed (5cm apart) they enjoy a sunny spot that is well drained. Regular picking encourages more flowers and gives you more peas! A trick for keeping a continual harvest is to plant your second lot of pea seeds once the first lot begin to flower.

Parsnips are one of my favourite root vegies and really easy to grow if you have fresh seed. They take 100 days to mature and benefit from frost or cold temperatures for better flavour. They can be slow to germinate so be patient and you can plant a fast growing crop of radish in the same spot. If you are wanting a few to go with your Christmas dinner then consider planting some in the garden soon.

If your summer crops are finishing fast and the garden is looking a bit empty then grab a few packets of quick crops like radish, rocket, mizuna, pak choi and lettuce. Punnets give you a 2-3 week head start on the seeds. Even faster are sprouts - pea, broccoli and cress can give you a harvest in less than two weeks.

What to plant in April?

Leaf crops - Celery, Cress, Collard greens, Chicory, Endive, Lettuce, Mizuna, Choi Sum, Gai Lan, Pak Choy, Chinese Cabbage, Mustard greens, Rocket, Spinach, Silverbeet, Radicchio, Witlof and Corn salad. Brassica crops (seedlings only*) - Broccoli, Broccoli Raab, Brussel Sprouts, Cabbage, Cauliflower and Kale. Root crops - Beetroot, Carrot, Radish, Daikon, Celeriac, Kohlrabi, Parsnip, Salsify, Swede, Turnip. Legume crops - Broad Beans, Snow peas and Peas. Onion family - Garlic, Leeks, Spring onions, Onions, Potato onions, Tree onions and Shallots. Herbs - Artichoke, Bay, Chives, Coriander, Fennel, Lemon Balm, Mint, Rosemary, Oregano, Parsley, Rosemary, Sage, Thyme and Burdock.

Enjoy the cooler weather and Happy planting!

The next Sustainable Living Workshop is on Thursday 10th April at the Dardanup Hall. Topic: Introduction to Seed saving. One of your superpowers as a gardener! Giving you the ability to save money and increase yields at home. Come along as we delve into the wonderful world of seeds and learn how to get started saving your own. We will focus on the differences between Heirloom, Open pollinated and Hybrid seed. Why diversity is important and which ones are the easiest ones to get started. The Dardanup Residents Assoc recently held their Committee meeting at St Aidans. Firstly, we welcomed our new Secretary, Jess Palazzolo and new Committee member, Tracey Wheat and we look forward to what they will bring to the Committee. Hot on the agenda was organising the 2 Dardanup Anzac Day Services and encouraging residents to support DEAG in opposing Cleanaways application to dump PFAS contaminated waste at their Banksia Rd site by either writing to Jodie Hanns MP Collie Preston or emailing DEAG if assistance required to complete the submission to DWER. Other matters discussed was the need for a community meeting with MRWA to discuss the Discovery Rd/ Wilman Wardandi intersection which many in the community have raised as unsafe. The DDRA will keep the community updated on the date of the MRWA community meeting. In the meantime if you have concerns about this intersection please email dardanupresidentsassociation@gmail.com and we will compile a record for MRWA and local politicians.

Phil and Mary Moving On After 25 Vintages

Phil and Mary Smith have sold St Aidans Winery and Café which they started 33 years ago to Jason Borgomastro. St Aidans is a much loved venue in our community, hosting events, weddings and family gatherings not to mention producing award winning wine. Thankyou Phil and Mary for your generosity, dedication and hard work in making St Aidans a place we have all thoroughly enjoyed visiting and I'm sure under Jason's guidance that won't change. Lucky for us Phil and Mary will be building down the road so won't be leaving our community.
